The Central and South Central Comprehensive Centers at the University of Oklahoma are funded by the United States Department of Education.